

National Park Service, National Capital Region, Museum Management Program

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

Current CESU Agreements:

- University of Maryland Department of Anthropology
 - Archeology field studies and collections management
- University of Maryland College of Information Studies (iSchool)
 - Archival surveys and records management
- George Washington University Museum Studies Program
 - Museum collections management and theory
- George Mason University Department of Environmental Science and Policy
 - Natural history collections surveys and assessments

The Museum Resource Center (MRCE) serves as the central curatorial facility for the National Park Service, National Capital Region. The Center is responsible for the care and preservation of museum objects for park units in the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

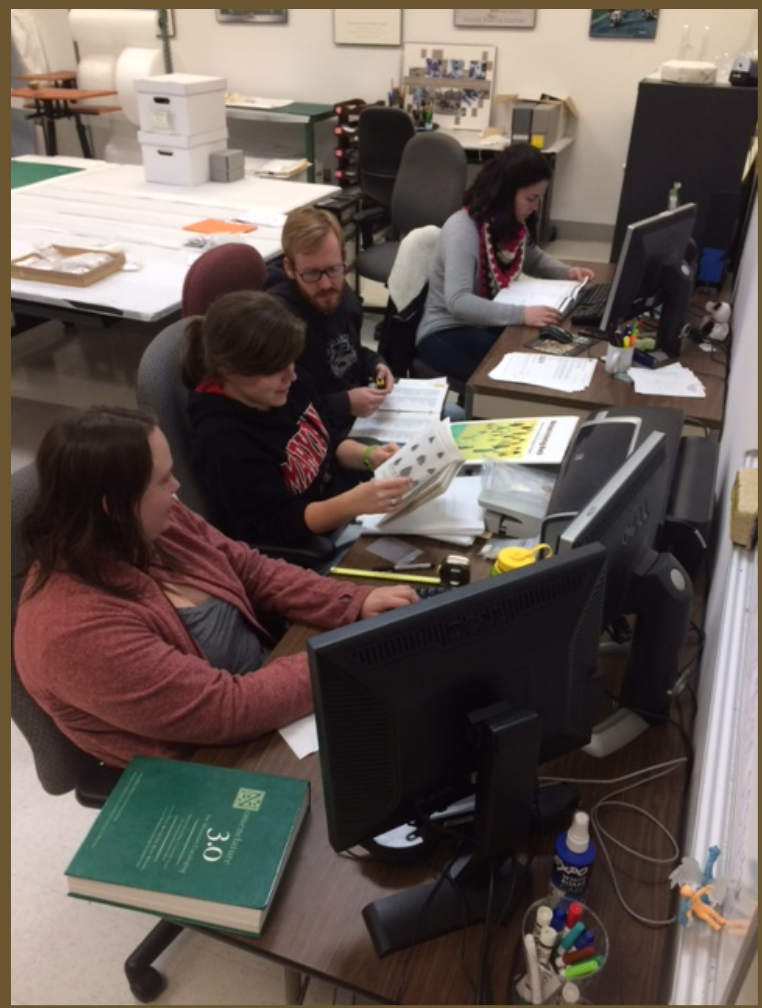

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

CESU Project Staff work on a variety of projects including re-housing fragile museum objects, designing exhibits for park display, developing baseline museum documents, and conducting outreach with members of the public.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

Projects are often interdisciplinary, relying on the collaboration of staff from multiple fields of study in order to achieve optimal results.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

Project staff frequently work on objects ranging in size from millimeters to many meters.

The NCR Museum Management Program currently employs sixteen CESU project staff, more than double the full time staff.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

